Guest Lecture on Generative AI and Prompt Engineering

21ST JANUARY, 2026

9:30 AM

VENUE: FCAIT, GLS

GLS UNIVERSITY
INCUBATION CENTER

Event Category: Awareness of Trends in Technology

Event Name: Guest Lecture on Generative AI and Prompt Engineering

Date: 21st January, 2026

Write up:

A seminar was organized on the topic of “Generative AI and Prompt Engineering,” featuring Mr. Abhishek Naskar, a distinguished expert and pioneer in the field from DataMites. The session was attended by the students of the FCAIT – PG.

The key objectives of the seminar were:

- To introduce the fundamentals of Generative Artificial Intelligence
- To explain the working principles of Large Language Models (LLMs)
- To demonstrate the importance and techniques of Prompt Engineering
- To explore real-world applications of Generative AI across domains
- To discuss ethical considerations and future trends in Generative AI

The seminar highlighted applications of Generative AI in various fields, including:

- Education: content generation, personalized learning, assessment creation
- Healthcare: medical report generation, synthetic data creation
- Software Development: code generation, debugging, and documentation

The session concluded with an interactive Q&A, during which attendees sought personalized advice, revealing the strong engagement and relevance of the topics discussed. Overall, the session was not just informative but deeply motivational, equipping participants with a clear sense of direction, practical strategies, and renewed confidence to navigate and thrive in the tech industry.
