

Report on Seminar on Agriculture Grant Awareness

Date: 03 September, 2025

Venue: Hall C – 4, Government Commerce College, Gandhinagar

Participants: 120

A Seminar on “Agriculture Grant Awareness” was organized at Government Commerce College, Gandhinagar on 03 September 2025 at Hall C-4 with the objective of creating awareness among students regarding various agricultural schemes and grant facilities provided by the Government of Gujarat. The seminar aimed to enhance students’ understanding of government support systems available for agricultural development, rural entrepreneurship, and farmer welfare.

The programme witnessed active participation from students and faculty members of the college. A total of 120 students attended the seminar with great enthusiasm and interest. The event was conducted under the guidance of the college administration and coordinated smoothly by faculty members.

The invited speaker delivered an informative and insightful session on different agricultural assistance schemes implemented by the Government of Gujarat. During the seminar, detailed information was provided regarding subsidy schemes, financial assistance programmes, irrigation support, modern farming equipment grants, organic farming initiatives, crop insurance schemes, and various welfare measures available for farmers and agri-based entrepreneurs.

The speaker also explained the objectives, eligibility criteria, application procedures, and benefits associated with different government grants and agricultural development programmes. Special emphasis was laid on how modern technology and government support can contribute towards sustainable agricultural growth and rural economic development.

Students were introduced to the importance of agriculture in the Indian economy and the growing opportunities available in the fields of agribusiness, agri-startups, food processing, and allied agricultural activities. The session encouraged students to understand the practical relevance of government policies and the role of youth in promoting innovation and awareness in the agricultural sector.

The seminar included an interactive discussion session wherein students actively asked questions regarding government schemes, implementation procedures, digital application systems, and opportunities available for educated youth in agriculture and rural development sectors. The speaker addressed all queries in a simple and practical manner, making the session highly engaging and beneficial for the participants.

The programme proved to be highly informative and educational for the students. It helped them gain awareness about various agricultural grants and government initiatives designed for the welfare and empowerment of farmers. The seminar also motivated students to explore opportunities related to rural entrepreneurship and government-supported development programmes.

The event concluded successfully with a vote of thanks expressing gratitude towards the speaker, faculty coordinators, and all participants for making the seminar meaningful and effective. Overall, the seminar served as an important awareness initiative and contributed towards enhancing students' knowledge regarding agricultural policies and government grant schemes in Gujarat.
